Saturn Style

The dream begins: In some kind of magical space, my studio. the whole place slopes downward and backward from where I'm standing...this seems a simple presentation of optical vision. I can see myself standing, and behind me, as on a stage set or in one of my photographs, the ground and walls sloping back and down. Then, as I stand there looking at the image, I begin hearing, "backward and downward" in a second sense. (Perhaps this resounding of the image is an effect of this image itself, its echoing cavernous resonance.) The sense is no longer a simple descriptive reproduction; now it has a second sense of implications. Metaphorical insight emerges through hearing while seeing. ~Saturn's Soul~

Let me explain a bit more, and I quote -Marsilio Ficino-Commentary on Plato's Phaedrus

Just as there are three main powers in fire-heat, light, and fleeting subtlety-so there are three similar powers in the soul's essence: the power of life, the understanding, and the desiring...At different times the soul brings forth its variety of seeds more less in profusion.

Soul Sensing Images captures the thought of the heart, torture of the soul, betrayal, imaginal love, wounds, fantasies, and more, let me in to your dreams, wants, desires and wishes and make them come true.
